Thriving: Beyond adjustment

RAVENNA HELSON;

Abstract

Originally published in Contemporary Psychology: APA Review of Books, 1980, Vol 25(9), 748. Reviews the book, Thriving: Beyond adjustment by Alan M. Dahms (1980). The thriving process is discussed in Part I of this book; stages of human development in Part II; psychoanalysis, behaviorism, and humanistic "helpers" in Part III; and Part IV is intended to integrate Western views of growth and Eastern ways of liberation as well as futurist's predictions into a philosophical and practical call to action based on the need for thriving skills.
